What to know...

When one community helps another, we all grow. An easy way to see this happen is when parents model by example for their children. The powerful experience of a parent sharing a day at work with a child can inspire the career dreams of the younger generation. Recognition for the different roles we fulfill is also rewarding for the more senior participants in the "Take Your Kid to Work" day that is marked this month.

Youth programs are designed to prepare young adults for academic and employment success. If under 16 and wanting to work, information can be found on how to get a work permit in Maine by visiting the Maine.gov/labor website. Young people may decide to pursue many different career paths, and the timing for training and education is unique for each person.

Thinking about going to college? There are many great options here in Maine. At all ages, continued learning is valued. FAME helps families find ways to pay for college & more. MEOC provides info and options for preparing for and funding college.

Vocational Rehabilitation, also known as "VR", is a MDOL/Bureau of Rehabilitation program that has a primary goal of assisting interested individuals who have disabilities to get and keep a job. VR can assist students with disabilities in coordinating information and resources as they transition from high school to adult life. VR counselors work with students and other people involved with the student's planning to assist with the process of making informed choices about future jobs. What if you are only in Maine seasonally? The National Farmworker Jobs Program (NFJP) works with migrant and seasonal farm workers and their families. NFJP provides supportive services and education, including basic skills/GED, approved trades school, On-the-Job Training, or higher education courses.

Whether you are seeking summer employment or a new job or a training that will prepare you to return to the workforce after a pause, there are many interesting careers out there – check out the listings in Maine JobLink! Use the filters to search for opportunities in your areas of interest.

April is:

April is the month when we celebrate "Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day." This is a non-profit educational program that revolves around parents taking their children to work for a day. The event is held on the fourth Thursday in April. In 1992, the Ms. Foundation launched "Take Our Daughters to Work Day," and schools were provided with materials for incorporating career exploration in their curricula. Now, the idea of showing all our children more about the world of work has expanded, and many employees across the USA will invite their children to work on April 28. The program also encourages including children from shelters and residential programs.
